Axxess Partners With Guided Care to Strengthen Managed Care Support for Healthcare Providers

DALLAS, September 30, 2025 – Axxess, the leading global technology innovator for healthcare at home, has partnered with Guided Care, a managed care support organization focused on helping healthcare providers streamline operations and improve financial performance.

Through this partnership, Axxess clients gain access to Guided Care's expertise in contracting, credentialing, verifications, authorizations, claims oversight and payer relations. These services reduce administrative burdens, improve reimbursement accuracy and enable organizations to focus on high-quality patient care.

"As the healthcare landscape grows, organizations need the right tools and expertise to navigate managed care successfully," said Robin Van Sickle, Vice President of Channel Partnerships at Axxess. "Our collaboration with Guided Care expands the value we offer clients by delivering specialized support that helps them drive better financial performance."

Axxess and Guided Care are dedicated to providing innovative and practical solutions that improve operations and outcomes.

"This partnership reflects a shared dedication to strengthening the healthcare industry by connecting providers with solutions that address their most pressing challenges with managed care," said Shayna Wasser, President of Guided Care. "By aligning with organizations like Axxess that value innovation and excellence, we can help raise the standard for successful managed care contract negotiations and reimbursement for our shared providers nationwide."
