AXXESS ANNOUNCES FORCURA AS A STRATEGIC PARTNER

Forcura care coordination platform drives efficiency and revenue cycle management for Axxess home health and hospice clients

DALLAS, June 14, 2021 – Axxess, a leading technology innovator for healthcare at home, today announced a strategic partnership with Forcura, a healthcare technology company that enhances an electronic health record (EHR) by enabling safer patient care coordination and transitions. This strategic partnership will provide Axxess clients the ability to manage the workflow associated with onboarding new patients as well as the coordination of care for existing patients through an API integration with Forcura. The Forcura platform combines workflow and collaboration tools, third-party engagement capabilities, and analytics to support healthcare providers across multiple care settings and services.

With Forcura’s referral automation feature, Axxess EHR clients will be able to process referrals and onboard patients up to 50% faster, giving clinical teams more time to prepare plans of care. All plans of care sent via the Axxess and Forcura interface are tracked and can be signed electronically, enabling staff to coordinate targeted physician outreach and meet their billing targets. Axxess users in the field will be able to update the patient chart in real time. Leaders can also monitor team performance and outstanding orders volumes with user-friendly reports.

“Technology integrations like this partnership with Forcura are the key to transforming the delivery of care in the home,” said John Olajide, founder and CEO of Axxess. “This enhanced experience will empower our clients to provide the best patient care, while lowering their administrative expenses and optimizing their revenue cycles.”

Craig Mandeville, founder and CEO at Forcura, said: “We are excited to launch this relationship with Axxess, whose innovative approach to delivering care at home aligns perfectly to our mission of empowering better patient care. Our goal is to provide our clients a best-in-class care coordination platform that adds an even greater return on their investment in Axxess as their EHR source of record.”
